IRISH CHEER THE BOERS

Remarkable Action of Members of the Reserve.

THROW GUNS INTO THE RIVER.

Three Cheers for the Boers—"God Save Ireland" and "God Save Kruger" Songs They Sing.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Cork, Dec. 15.—All Ireland is in a ferment of excitement over the remarkable action of the Irish Boers who embarked yesterday at Waterford on their way to fill the gaps in their regiment now engaged in the Transvaal war.

On the way to the transport they broke out of military formation, gave three cheers for the Boers and scores of them threw their guns, rifles and accoutrements into the river. Pickets were sent out to gather in the recalcitrants.

As the transport was leaving the wharf the whole company joined in singing "God Save Ireland" and "God Save Kruger."

TO SUCCEED METHUEN

London, Dec. 15.—The war office today announced the appointment of Gen. Macdonald to command the Highland brigade, with Gen. Methuen, now in command, transferred to India.

"SEND REINFORCEMENTS"

Free Camp, Dec. 15.—Firing began today with thirty-eight guns at Colenso. The British also began a flanking movement. The Boers are very strong in position. Their heliographers last night signalled joyously: "Send reinforcements to White."

BOERS WERE REPULSED.

Pretoria, Dec. 15.—Sharp fighting is reported at Mafeking. The Boers attempted to capture the post, but were repulsed.

Sternstrom, Dec. 12.—Boers state that their force, which defeated Gaster at Stormberg numbered only eight hundred. They were surprised at the British retreating. If the British had arrived half an hour earlier the Boers would have been surprised.

London, Dec. 15.—Dispatch from Modder River places the Boer losses at Magersfontein at seven hundred. Dispatch adds that British retired because of lack of water. Central News says Boer losses amounted to two thousand.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Pretoria, Dec. 15.—The following official announcement relating to the battle at Modder River has been made: Cronje reports that "yesterday there was desultory fighting till 6 o'clock when heavy cannon firing was resumed. The Scandinavians stormed the difficult positions but it became untenable and they suffered severely. It was unable to stand help. The British had an overwhelming force, but have lost two thousand killed and wounded."

Fadettes Woman's Orchestra.

The management of the Academy of Music should congratulate itself and the public upon securing the Fadettes Woman's Orchestra for next Monday night, the 18th. This organization is composed of twenty specially selected artists and is under the direction of the Southern Lyceum Bureau. This is a sufficient guarantee of the company's excellence, for the Southern Lyceum Bureau controls nothing but star attractions. The following letter has just been received by the Messrs. McAdoo:

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 22, 1899.

Dear Sirs:—The Fadettes Woman's Orchestra was with us on the 20th. I am happy to report the entertainment was entirely satisfactory. Every one who was present seemed to enjoy the occasion most heartily. I can truly say that I never listened to a better rendition of classical and popular music than that of the Fadettes Woman's Orchestra. Very sincerely yours, gun avenue.

Messrs. Joe Sechrest and Virgil Idol went over to Thomasville last evening to help the boys of the Junior Order at that place initiate applicants for membership. They report a delightful time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Havre, who have been visiting the family of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donahue Smith, leave tonight for a visit to Mrs. Havre's sister, Mrs. Vaughn, at Augusta, Ga.

E. E. Bain, a prominent lumber dealer of Greensboro, was here last night enroute home from Pinehurst.

Mr. Bain is furnishing the lumber for the magnificent hotel in course of construction at Pinehurst.

Since hides of different kinds are finding a ready market here trapping is being practiced to some extent. We noticed a countryman yesterday with six steel traps to be used in catching game. This is a paying business where game is abundant, especially when animals with "high-priced coats" are trapped.

The band boys are fixing to give an oyster supper at the opera house next Wednesday night, December 20th. Most everything good to eat will be served and delightful music will be furnished by the organization. One and all should turn out and by your presence and liberality encourage the boys in their efforts to furnish High Point with as good a musical organization as can be found in the state. We know you will attend.

The High Point chair factory has again changed hands. L. J. Ingram has bought back the half interest in the factory which he sold to Messrs. Sherrod & Baker a few weeks ago and assumes charge as superintendent. Ben Best is secretary. Messrs. Sherrod & Baker will move back to Hamilton, as they have contemplated for some time. We are loathe to lose these gentlemen but wish them abundant success at their old home.

THE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

In Session Today to Select Place for Convention.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The national republican committee met this morning at the Arlington hotel. Delegations from New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis will be heard after the examination of credentials. Senator Dwyer and Lieut. Governor Woodruff were the first to present their claims. New York first, then Philadelphia, Chicago follows next and St. Louis comes last. It is expected the committee will then take a ballot in executive session on the Payne resolution, which is next in order, followed by the Delaware factional fight.

SOUTHERN BOBBIN CO.

A New Corporation Organized in Greensboro Yesterday.

One by one the various enterprises which will eventually make Greensboro a great city are springing up. Some of them are starting on a small scale, it is true, but almost without exception they have started, are progressing rapidly and promise great things for the future.

On yesterday a new corporation was formed to be known as the Southern Bobbin Company. Articles of incorporation were issued and the company will proceed at once to business, or as soon as a suitable location for the factory can be secured. The incorporators are Messrs. R. W. Brooks, W. T. Powe, S. H. Boyd and Lieutenants Douglas, Seale. Mr. Powe is president, Mr. Brooks, vice-president, and Mr. Boyd, secretary and treasurer.

We wish the new concern much success. Their product will be bobbins for cotton mills.

We will make it worth your while to help us in the search now going on to find the bottom of our clothing piles. For a little money we will let you take away a suit or two so that the piles will be reduced.

PRITCHARD'S RESOLUTION.

So Far as Known He Is Blazing Out a New Path.

BUT IT WILL AMOUNT TO NOTHING

Congressmen Linney and Kitchin Speak on Currency Bill—Linney's Change of Views.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Senator Pritchard's resolution limiting the exercise of suffrage in the state, is causing considerable comment among North Carolina people. So far as can be discovered the resolution is unusual and there is no precedent for a resolution of the character of the one offered by the North Carolina Senator. Even should the senate pass it, it would have no more effect than a mere expression of opinion on the part of a body composed of some of the ablest constitutional lawyers of the country, but whose judgment is usually clouded by political considerations. The passage of the resolution, of course, would in no manner affect the constitutionality of the proposed amendment, which is copied largely after that in vogue in Louisiana and which has been declared by the highest tribunal of the country to be constitutional. The passage of the resolution, however, would be entering into a domain in which congress under the constitution has no right to enter. The right to interpret the constitution of the United States is expressly reserved for the supreme court, and it is not within the province of the senate nor the house of representatives, nor of both branches of congress combined, to declare the law of any state, or of the United States, in conflict with the constitution. To many good lawyers in Washington, who have been seen, it is doubtful if a resolution like that offered by Senator Pritchard will be recognized in the senate, as it would be assuming the prerogative of the supreme court of the United States, and therefore not in order as a subject for the consideration of the senate. At any rate, the expediency of the senate considering such resolutions; declaring repudiation laws of the states or of congress in conflict with the constitution in conflict with their enactment, is doubtful. Its propriety is without question.

Representative Linney, of North Carolina, spoke Wednesday night at the night session of the house of representatives on the currency bill, explaining his change of sentiment from silver to the gold side of the financial issue. The congressman in the Fifty-fourth congress was the only republican who voted for the Teller resolution in the house.

Congressman Kitchin, of North Carolina, also spoke Wednesday night on the currency bill. Mr. Kitchin, of course is in opposition and made a very able speech on the financial question from a democratic standpoint. It was Mr. Kitchin's first speech this session, and many of his friends were seated in the galleries.

Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, is mentioned as a possible nominee of the republicans for the vice-presidency on the ticket with McKinley. Mr. Linney, of the same state, is enthusiastically for Pritchard, and believes that if nominated Pritchard could carry the State at the approaching presidential election. Pritchard himself is apparently not giving the vice-presidential question any concern, and the buzz of the bee does not seem to trouble him very much. The North Carolina Senator is now mostly concerned as to the probable fate of his friend, Judge Ewart, at the hands of the president.

The Virginia democrats are solid against the passage of the gold standard bill now pending in the house of representatives. Every vote from the Old Dominion will be cast squarely against the bill.

There is some talk of holding a democratic caucus on the currency bill before the vote is taken on Monday. If it is done the opposition to the bill will make it binding upon the members to vote against the bill, and probably all who decline to abide by the caucus will be hereafter shut out from membership in the democratic party. It is said that twelve representatives at least on the democratic side will vote with the republicans for the passage of the bill.

R. R. Tolbert, Jr., of Abbeville, South Carolina, is in Washington again, and will remain here for a week or more. Mr. Tolbert went to Mount Vernon Thursday to attend the Masonic exercises incident to the celebration of the centennial of the death of Washington. It is said that he intends to push his contest for a seat in the house of representatives.

A large number of republican politicians are in the city attending the meetings of the national republican committee which assemblies at the Arlington Hotel today.

DR. STANLEY'S REPLY.

He Declines to Modify Any of His Previous Statements.

To the Editor of the Observer:—In reply to Dr. W. P. Beall's card in your paper of the 12th, I wish to say that I emphasize every word contained in my article of the 10th on the epidemic of fever at the State Normal and Industrial College. Until the matter is cleared up and my arguments, which were based on Dr. R. H. Lewis' report, and facts well known to the public, are answered satisfactorily, I will not modify any statement I have made. Dr. Beall states that "as soon as the state" The report of Dr. Lewis has been made and the public has it. Will that report be changed? If it is to be changed, what is a report worth? I repeat my article was based largely upon his report.

In his assertion of belief that all self-respecting physicians in the state are with him, Dr. Beall's delusion is one who agrees with him, but in this I hope he will learn that the world is too large for one man to select himself the sole judge of what constitutes self respect in others.

This is a free country where every man has a right to think and speak honest convictions, especially upon matters of public interest. No one has ever dared to North Carolina since George III gave the people a deed to it. He had a big job on his hands inasmuch as I am a tax-paying citizen of this free commonwealth, I claim the right to express myself in this matter without being termed "impertinent," and until all the medical thought and authority are embodied in one man, I shall take the liberty to express my views freely without fear of the charge of "unprofessional conduct" by the medical profession of the state.

As to my not being a gentleman, I have nothing to say. If my life and acts do not speak for themselves, I have no defense to make.

E. L. STAMM, M. D.

Greensboro, N. C., December 14th, 1899.

Prayers and Hickory.

Perhaps you have heard of the old woman up in the mountains of Tennessee. She had twelve sons, all of them great big powerful fellows, each one of them overtopped his mother by at least a head, and all as obedient to her lightest order as if they had been little shavers in knee pants.

A passing traveler inquired what method she had followed in raising her family to which she replied: "I raised 'em on prayers and hickory, stranger, and raised them powerful frequent."

All parents might agree in thinking this the best way to raise a family. But the results are what count in this world, and if the results are good the "end justifies the means."

It is a foregone conclusion, if you expect to raise your family as others are doing you will have to have a piano in your home. In fact, a piano must be bought. What shall it be, and how shall you buy it? If you buy of an agent or dealer you will have to pay at least $150 more than if bought direct from the manufacturer.

For a short time only you can secure one direct from the maker. You can buy as cheaply as a dealer or agent on easy terms of payment. You can furnish your home with a $150 piano for $250, or a piano that retails in any store for $400 for only $225. $500 piano can be bought for $289. All of them brand new.

Get your piano now—this week. Do not wait until holidays, when you can save $150 at least by taking advantage of this special sale of two carloads of pianos direct from the factory. Select from a large stock of instruments, and get what you want in woods and styles of cases.

Delays are dangerous. Our time is limited. We can only be with you a few days longer.

C. J. Jellison, Factory Agent, 217 S. Elm Street.

The Danger of Gasoline.

The account given in the press dispatches on the 12th inst., of explosion of gasoline at Montgomery, Ala., in which eight firemen were seriously hurt and two were fatally hurt, suggests the question as to whether or not the recent fire ordinance passed in Greensboro affords any protection against a danger of this kind. We have investigated the matter and find that the ordinance provides that no gasoline shall be kept or used in any building without a permit from the chief of fire department or mayor, and that no illuminating gas or vapor shall be generated in any building without such a permit, and that for violations of this provision a fine of $5.00 shall be imposed for every day that such violation shall continue.

It will be remembered that about a year ago a fire and explosion occurred in one of the largest business blocks of the city and resulted from the illegal use of gasoline. The fearful accident at Montgomery illustrates the value of the ordinance recently adopted by the city fathers for Greensboro if its provisions are rigidly enforced.

THE "MORAL SENSE."

The Morning Post elaborates at some length today on the "moral sense" of the country in connection with the Roberts case, the mormon member-elect of congress from Utah. We copy the editorial entire:

In defense of the suggestion that "the moral sense of the country" demanded that the Utah representative, Roberts, be excluded from congress, the Greensboro Telegram adds: "The time is coming, if it is not yet, when the 'moral sense' of the country must rule and govern it. It has been too often disregarded. It is not now being given due consideration in all places and under all circumstances. Let the moral sense of a community or a country prevail and have sway and the people will have little to complain of."

With this statement of our contemporary we are in entire accord. But the "moral sense" of the country has established a code of laws by which its supremacy shall be maintained, and its edicts for the protection of society and the punishment of the guilty shall be enforced. If these laws are not to govern, then society must go unprotected and the rule of the mob must come into action. The moral sense of the country condemns the crime, the penalty for which that same moral sense has said shall be death; yet the same moral sense revolts at the summary vengeance of the mob in disregard of and contempt for law. Law, or its execution, is no doubt often perverted, by which guilty persons escape the penalty of their crimes, but the moral sense of the country rather condemns this than uses it to justify the other horrible and degenerating effect of the violation of law by the mob. In a country professedly governed by law its moral sense rather demands that the law be faithfully, impartially, honestly obeyed and executed. For the good of the body politic as well as society generally this must be so.

The action of the house in refusing to permit the Utah member-elect to be sworn in was a clear violation of the law, a very dangerous precedent, one that a majority, maddened from any cause or bent upon bad purposes can use to the serious injury of the country. If the member-elect be guilty, as he may be, of the charges preferred, the manhood of the house, let alone its self-respect and its respect for the law, would have been equal to the occasion and would have expelled him. If it should turn out that, as a fact, and as a matter of law in this case made and provided, he is not guilty, then the deprivation to which he has been subjected is a crime against his individual rights, a crime against his constituents in being thus denied representation, an inexcusable violation of law in all respects, in addition to its viciousness as a dangerous precedent. If Roberts is proven guilty, his expulsion could and would, no doubt, have followed with more unanimity than that by which he was denied his rights under the law.

The "moral sense of the country" is for the observance and execution of the law. It is the disregard of or misapplication of law by those of whom better is expected that has shocked, we fear very much blunted, the moral sense of the country. A more frequent "recurrence to first principles" in a more strict and orderly obedience to law would result very beneficially to the country.

The idea which prompts the above on the part of the Post, viz: the moral sense of the country demands enforcement of and respect to law, we will not controvert. It depends on which way you look at this Roberts business. The moral sense of the country is unquestionably on the side of law and order. At the same time it is in favor of decency and respectability. The decency and refinement of the country generally does not respect a man who has three wives and the law which permits him to do so and which forces him into the position of law maker, is not in keeping with the aforesaid "moral sense."

It will be remembered that in our previous mention of this matter we did attempt to view it from a legal standpoint. We noticed that the North Carolina delegation had divided on the subject.

Belamy, were looking at it differently. From one view of the case Mr. Kitchin is right, from another Mr. Belamy is right.

We submit the belief that the "moral sense" of the country, in its strictest interpretation, did not govern the making of a law which gives a polygamist the right to make laws to which the decency and virtue of the nation must look for protection.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

An anti-trust meeting will be held at Chicago on February 12th next.

"One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy I ever used for coughs and colds. It is unequalled for whooping cough. Children all like it," writes H. N. Williams, Gentryville, Ind. Never fails. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Cures coughs, colds, hoarseness, croup, pneumonia, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Its early use prevents consumption. Howard Gardner.

The Poet Burns,

Not the least of the advantages attending life assurance is the serenity of mind which attends the provident man lying on a bed of sickness, or when he is in prospect of death—so unlike that painful anxiety for the future welfare of the family not provided for. The poet Burns, in writing to a friend a few days before his death, said that he was "still the victim of affliction. Alas! Clark, I begin to fear the worst. Burns' poor widow and a half a dozen of his dear little ones, helpless orphans; here I am weak as a woman."

"If you would escape the rock upon which the lamented Burns split," take shelter from the storm that is bound to spend its fury upon you when the fatal summons comes, by at once securing the magnetic contract offered by the Provident Savings.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use Without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Mr. Kitchin's Bill.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Among the house measures introduced today was one by Mr. Kitchin, of North Carolina, reducing the tax on snuff and tobacco from 12 to 2 cents per pound, and compelling telegraph companies to pay the revenue stamp tax on dispatches.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Since our December announcement we have had hundreds of pleased customers—pleased with the goods and the price. Still there are a few upon whom the truth is slow to dawn, that think we are only advertising. We wonder if they think we are such fools as to advertise to do what we are not willing to stand up to.

HELLO, CENTRAL!
Give Us Everybody on the Wires.
Don't Lose the Greatest Opportunity
You Will Ever Have of Purchasing a Piano at Factory Cost.
ONCE A CUSTOMER, ALWAYS A FRIEND.

If you are going to buy a piano inside the next two years it will pay you largely to do so now, when you can save every dollar of expense and profit usually added to the cost of the instrument, which amounts in some cases to as much as the original cost of the piano sold.

Those wishing to purchase before Christmas can find an assortment here to select from equal to any in the larger cities. They are here for good as money and brains can produce and as long as we have pianos on our floor will save you on an average of $200 and give you as fine an instrument as can be found in the state of North Carolina.

If you purchase and find your piano not as represented, return it and get your money. There is no object in the world to sell an individual purchaser at the same price we charge agents except to gain future business through him, and you can rest assured once a customer always a friend.

Let no insinuations from those who are not in a position to compete mislead you. We have the goods right here at 217 South Elm street for examination and if they are not found at least as good as any ever sold in Greensboro we will not ask you to buy.

They have been manufactured continuously for 27 years. They have stood the test of time. None are better—few as good—and if those in Greensboro who intend to buy pianos and haven't yet done so would call before I close this sale they would appreciate a manufacturer offering them the opportunity to purchase at factory cost.

We have only a few left and will deliver one in your home, if in Greensboro, or if not, at depot, boxed, at following prices and on terms of $20 cash and $5 per month, 6 per cent. interest.

We have one left of our $500 pianos, elegant mahogany case, very largest size, for $225.

We have five very handsome regular size (4 feet 8 inches), pianos in French Burli and Circassian walnut, San Domingo mahogany and English oak that sells in any market for $425 to $450. They will go this week for $225.

One left over of our $400 pianos marked $225.

You may not need a piano. If so, this will not interest you, but if you are in need of one it certainly is to your advantage to look us up as soon as possible.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.
Miss Mae Carr has gone to her home at Trinity for the holidays.
Miss Anna Belle Blair, of Durham, was here last night enroute to Texas.
Major J. E. Alexander, of Winston, passed through this morning going east.

Greensboro people are glad to welcome Dr. W. A. Lash and family back to the city.
You are cordially invited to hear Dr. W. S. Rainford at St. Andrew's tonight at 7:30.

J. C. Larkin left at noon for his home in Carthage, after spending a short time with friends in the city.

Drs. Moore, the opticians, present a new ad today which will interest those whose eyes are defective. Read it.

The agent of the San Francisco Minstrels is in town arranging for his show to appear here on December 20th.

Go and see that large and well selected stock of toys, Christmas goods at E. M. Caldwell & Bros.

Rev. Jno. C. Troy and daughter Louise, of Jonesboro, are in the city, stopping at Dr. Stamey's for a day or two.

Geo. C. Champlain, of New Hampshire, is in the city for a few days, stopping with his friend, George W. Pritchett.

The usual splendid array of nice things for the table will be found at Hudson's tomorrow. See his announcement on this page.

J. C. Caddell, traveling representative and correspondent of the Biblical Recorder, was in the city last night, stopping at the Allen.

Miss Laura Wheeler, of Wilmington, arrived today and will visit the family of her uncle Mr. John K. Wheeler, a few days.

Deputy Sheriff Weatherly carried J. L. Roberts, the bogus check man, before I close this sale they would appreciate a manufacturer offering them the opportunity to purchase at factory cost.

After you have decided what to give for a holiday present another problem confronts you—something "fit to give." Read Fariss' new ad today and consult him.

J. B. Whitaker, Jr., editor of the Winston Sentinel, passed through the city going to Goldsboro, on an official visit in the interest of the Knights of Honor.

Smith & Marchison present a new ad today calling your attention to some of the good things they will have on hand for Sunday dinner or any other meal. Look it up.

For the benefit of the holiday purchasers, Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees present a list of a few things among the many they have in stock. Read their ad and call on them.

Judge Spencer B. Adams, secretary and treasurer of the North Carolina railroad is in Burlington today attending the semi-annual meeting of the board of directors of said road.

Tickets are now on sale for Fadedies Woman's Orchestra, which will appear at the Academy of Music on Monday night. Tickets at Fariss' drugstore. Now is the time to secure a good seat.

The Telegram joins the other friends of Rev. V. L. Marsh in extending to him a hearty welcome to this city. The late conference at Concord appointed him pastor of the church at Proximity and he has entered upon his duties.

After January 1st, Mr. E. D. Nall, who for a long while has been traveling for McNair & Pearsall, Wilmington, will be on the road for the Merchants' Grocery Co., of this city. Mr. Nall is an energetic and faithful salesman, and will do good work for this excellent and popular firm.

The marriage of Miss Dora Spencer, daughter of Mr. Nathan Spencer, to Mr. Silas Thompson, was solemnized last night at the home of the bride's father on South Elm street, Rev. Jos. Pease officiating. It was a quiet, home wedding, only the members of the immediate families being present.

We are pleased to hear that Mr. J. W. Menefee and family, of New York City, will make their home in Greensboro. Mr. Menefee has many friends not only in Greensboro, but throughout the state. We regret, however, to hear that Mr. Ed Williamson, of Fayetteville, a brother of Mrs. Menefee, is ill with typhoid fever.

Miss Tempy Williams, who has been very ill with typhoid fever at the Normal, was removed yesterday to the residence of Dr. B. B. Williams, and will leave tomorrow for her home in Oxford. She has been very ill, and Drs. Roberson and Turner were both employed in the case. Miss Agnes Moore, also a patient of Dr. Roberson, is so far recovered that she will be able to go home Monday.

It will be seen from a news item published elsewhere that Rev. J. Ernest Thacker has been called to the pastorate of the Second Presbyterian church of Norfolk, to succeed the lamented Rev. Dr. Lacy. Mr. Thacker is an old Greensboro boy, and is a brother of our townsman Mr. John Thacker, of Thacker & Brookmann. He is yet a young man, and it is regarded highly complimentary that he is called to succeed Dr. Lacy, who was one of the foremost divines of the country.

Letter to Santa Claus.
Dear Old Santa—I want you to bring me a drum, gun and rifle, a dog, anything else you want to bring. Old Santa, I want you to drive ten deer to your sleigh. I want you to have a great big horn, a mile long, and don't forget to bring the poor little children that have no father and mother something nice. Your little four year old friend,
